PURCHASE OF TOLL BRIDGE WILL GO TO LEGISLATURES

York County Commissioners Will Not Consider Proposed Pur- chase of Bridge

If the toll bridge between this city and Kittery changes hands, it will be done by an act of the legislature. Recently a committee from the city council held a meeting with the selectmen of Kittery and Elliot on the matter of purchasing the highway part of the structure and abolishing the toll collection system. This committee and the selectmen could not arrive at any agreement and finally the commissioners of Rockingham county, N. H., and York county, Maine, were called into the conference with no better result in the end. The commissioners of York county did not believe the counties should take it over and consequently it must go to the legislature for action.

STATE TREASURER HAS THE MONEY

Automobile Fees Will Be Used For Maintenance of Highways.

More than $22,000 was turned over to the state treasurer from the office of the secretary of state at Concord as the collections from automobile fees and chauffeur's licenses for the month of May. The amount from the same sources for the month of April was more than $31,000. This money is now available for the maintenance of highways, in the construction of which the state has given aid at the discretion of the governor and council. Much of this available for the trunk lines is to be used for oiling the surfaces of the macadam sections.

The auto wheels are grinding up a lot of enemies.

VOTERS MUST REGISTER

In Order to Vote for the Pri- mary Election in September.

Check lists have been posted in every city and town in New Hampshire bearing the names of eligible voters in each town and ward and disclosing their party preference as expressed in the state-wide primary held in September 1910. This is the first time in New Hampshire that check lists have been posted showing the political affiliations of the voters. Against the name of each voter on the list who participated in the 1910 primaries is placed the information "Dem." for Democrat or "Rep." for Republican according as he voted or declared himself two years ago. The space opposite the names of those who did not vote and those whose names have since been added to the list are left blank.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Damon Lodge, K. of P. Will Observe Same on June 16

Damon lodge, 9, Knights of Pythias, will hold Memorial services for their deceased members at their Castle hall on Sunday afternoon, June 16, when the new Pythian ritualistic memorial service will be used in this city for the first time. The memorial address will be delivered by Col. John H. Bartlett. The members of Crystal temple, Pythian Sisters, and Lucullus company, U. R. K. P., have been invited to join with Damon lodge in the holding of these services. In the morning a committee from Damon lodge will visit the several cemeteries and place markers and flags on the graves of their deceased members.

ENGINEER TAKES HIKE

Walks to This City to Get Another Locomotive.

Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning the locomotive of an east-bound extra freight blew out a cylinder head half way between this city and Greenland. The accident resulted in the machine stopping on the centre and could not be moved a peg. The whole train became stalled in the woods. There was no telephone handy to send word for relief and Engineer Thomas Evans was obliged to walk to the round-house to get another engine. There was much delay in getting the disabled machine and train to this station which did not leave here until 9 o'clock on its way east.

WORK HELD UP ON DOVER POINT BRIDGE

Railroad Men Believe That the Dover Branch Will be Made Part of Main Line

On Tuesday all work on the Newington bridge on the Portsmouth and Dover branch of the Boston & Maine railroad was ordered suspended by the engineering department. Following this order reports of all kinds began to circulate. The strongest of the rumors have it that the Boston & Maine will be obliged to build a new steel bridge at this point and that the plans which the company had in view for a year or more will be carried out, making the Dover branch part of the main line with a double track between this city and Dover. Should this plan be decided upon the prospect for a new steel bridge between Portsmouth and Kittery does not look good. It is understood that the Boston & Maine management will send all through-passenger trains via this city and Dover under this arrangement and the old main line of the former Eastern division east of this city would then be used mostly for through freight, the York Harbor & Beach branch and a few local trains between this city and North Berwick. The station of Jewett formerly Conway Junction, as a terminal for the Conway branch, will be nothing more than a flag station. In connection with the reported changes the large amount of track in the yard of this station it is said will be taken up and put to use in some other yard. For a long time the company have been considering the line east of this city as far as North Berwick as unimportant. To further benefit the Western division and improve the service it is said that the line between Cummings and North Berwick will be double tracked. Of these proposed changes, which appear more evident than ever, the Herald predicted a year ago.

DIES SUDDENLY WHILE PLAYING BASEBALL

Fred Pike, Employee of Portsmouth Beef Company Expires from Heart Failure

Fred Pike, a well known young man employed at the Portsmouth Beef & Provision company and a resident of Bennett street died suddenly this forenoon. Death came as a result of heart failure. Mr. Pike and another employee of the firm were engaged in tossing a baseball in the rear of the building when suddenly after throwing the ball he remarked "I don't feel well" and was seen to stagger. He walked to a barrel nearby where he sat down and lapsed into unconsciousness. Medical aid was summoned but he had expired before the arrival of Dr. Berry.

Mr. Pike was a very popular employee of the firm and well liked by all his acquaintances. Besides a mother he leaves one brother Clifton,

STOCK BROKER FINED $3,000

BOSTON, June 4.—Victor M. Well, stock broker, pleaded guilty today in the United States District Court to three counts in an indictment for using the mail in a scheme to defraud, and was fined $3,000, which he paid.

He had been on trial before Judge Putnam and a jury. This was the second trial, the first having ended abruptly because of information given by Joseph Kelley, a juror, to the court to the effect that an effort had been made to influence his vote.

Later John F. Corcoran of Charlestown was indicted and arrested on a charge of trying to influence the juror. The case is pending.

The disposition made of the case today came with as much surprise as the jury bribery charge at the former trial. A conference was held this forenoon between United States Dist. Atty. French and counsel for the defendant, John P. Feehey and Guy A. Ham.

Dist. Atty. French addressed the court after the defendant entered a plea of guilty at the close of the conference. He said he thought the court had heard sufficient evidence during the trial to now whether or not the defendant deserved severe punishment. He left the entire matter of sentence with the court.

Mr. Feehey said Well had spent all the money he received in developing the mining properties, and he had no intention of defrauding anyone. He entered into the enterprise in good faith.

Judge Putnam said the evidence was insufficient to show that Well had defrauded anyone, but there was sufficient to show that he had been guilty of deceit. For the use of the mail in pursuance of this deceit, the court said it would impose the maximum penalty of $3,000 for each offense.

Well was arrested in October, 1910, at the offices of the Intertrust Security Company, 7 Water street. That company was the fiscal agent of the Goldfield-Boston Consolidated Mining Company.

TAFT GETS SIX MORE FROM OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., June 4.—President Taft won in the fight for Ohio's six delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention at the State convention today by a vote of 390 1-2 to 362 1-2.

The first actual test of delegates gave Taft a victory by a vote of 393 1-2 to 359 1-2 when the majority report was adopted. On the minority report endorsing Col. Roosevelt, Cayahoga county (Cleveland) voted 45 for Taft, 8 for Roosevelt, Montgomery county (Dayton) gave its delegation of 29 for Taft, Lucas county (Toledo) gave its solid delegation of 22 for Roosevelt.

The Republican convention decided to conclude the present session with the election of the six delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention, then hold a recess State convention on July 2 to name a State ticket.

Brown Moved to Seat Taft Men.

The convention adopted the report of the credentials committee, seating 11 Taft delegates that had been contested. Confusion broke out when Walter F. Brown of Toledo, manager of Roosevelt's Ohio campaign, urged the adoption of the report. A. N.

Woodward of Cleveland protested that Brown was not a delegate, and asked the Roosevelt manager to leave the hall. Delegates from Brown's home county, Lucas, declared him a duly elected delegate.

The first contest was precipitated by the report of the committee on resolutions. The majority report recommended the endorsement of the administration of President Taft.

J. Mead Massie of Chillicothe presented a minority report urging the name of Col. Roosevelt be substituted.

No speaker was given full opportunity to express himself, owing to constant interruptions from the two factions on the floor.

BEST KITCHEN FLOOR

SOUTHERN PINE HAS MUCH TO RECOMMEND IT.

Stained and Oiled This Wood Offers Surface That Wears Well and is Kept Clean With Little Labor.

If you must have hardwood, avoid white ash, which splinters and turns gray. Maple has many admirers for its hard whiteness, but requires almost daily scrubbing to maintain that whiteness, and varnish wears off seemingly overnight. Red oak has a rich tone and withstands use without screaming for the daily scrubbing brush.

My own preference, says Maude E. Hyman in Farm and Home, is for southern pine, stained and oiled (never varnished), since the hard wear of a kitchen keeps it constantly scarred, and varnish cannot be renewed in spots without having a patchy look. The only remedy is to remove it and apply a new coat, but varnish remover is both expensive and laborious to apply. Paint is open to similar objections, with the possible exception that it "patches" better.

Possibly the most permanent stain for pine is also one of the most inexpensive, consisting only of permanganate of potash. This can be purchased at any drug store, and needs only to be mixed with water, in the proportion of one-quarter ounce to a quart of water. Have floor thoroughly clean and dry and apply the mixture with a brush, freely and evenly. If a very dark shade is desired, make two applications, but the addition of the oil makes it dark enough for most tastes.

When thoroughly dry, oil with burnt linseed oil, heated, or an emulsion of beeswax and turpentine. The former is quicker to apply, needing simply two soft cloths, one to apply it, the other to wipe away the superfluous oil. The latter, however, gives a higher polish and may be rubbed to a beautiful luster. Either finish will repel grease spots.

In applying the permanganate of potash do not be alarmed if at first your floor takes on an undesirable magenta color; this will subside almost immediately, changing to a dark, rich brown, a genuine Havanna stain, utterly impervious to water.

To Stain White Kid Black.

Simple treatment with solution of iron sulphate or copperas will dye leather black. Acetate of iron may also be used with advantage. The leather might first be mordanted with a solution of logwood extract diluted with a little alcohol, applied several times till the deepest tint is obtained, also is a stain used for coloring white kid black. It should be applied with a brush, the kid held on a form to keep its shape, and the leather should be rubbed with a soft cloth while drying to soften the fibre. Any of these stains applied thoroughly to give the darkest tint will blacken light leather articles sufficiently to prolong their service, though, of course, failing to achieve results entirely like the new article.

To Cleanse Feathers.

To clean feathers from their own animal oil, steep them in a bath of one gallon of water mixed with one pound of lime; stir the mass well to expose all evenly to the purifying agents, then pour off the water, and give the feathers several good rinsings in clear cold water. To clean feathers from dust or dirt simply wash them in a bath of hot soap-suds and rinse in hot water. To free them from any taint boil them in a loose porous case, using a little ammonia and dissolved soap in the water. Rinse freely in hot water and dry in a current of air in the sack in which they were cleansed.

Marmalade.

One dozen oranges, two grape fruits, two lemons; slice fruit rind and all thin, picking out pits. To every pound of fruit allow three pints of water. Let stand twenty-four hours, then boil slowly till tender, and let stand another twenty-four hours. To every pound of fruit and syrup add 1½ pounds of sugar. Boil half hour, or until fruit is transparent and syrup jellies. Seal in jolly glasses. This will make about forty glasses. Some of us are at this time of the year getting low on our supply of jams and jellies. These make a fine substitute.

Daisy Luncheon Meat.

Take any cold meat—you may use two kinds if you wish—and mince fine. Add enough good stock-to-moisten, and season to taste. You should have about three cups.

Take three hard-boiled eggs, place one endwise in the bottom of a mold and pack meat firmly around it until it is nearly covered; then place the next egg and pack the meat around, and so on until your mold is full. (Use a round mold). Be sure to place the eggs on end. Remove from the mold and cut in slices. The daisy will appear in the center.

Mayonnaise Sandwiches.

Make a piquant mayonnaise, using plenty of red pepper and lemon juice in the seasoning. Spread on a bit of lettuce put between fresh gluten bread, trimmed of all crust. Only a little of the mayonnaise must be used, for it is likely to drip with the heat of the room.

Is Coffee a Poison?

Read this

The average cup of coffee contains about 2 1-2 grains of "caffeine" ---the drug that you read about here.

Coffee drinkers often suffer from headache, nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, heart irritation and other symptoms of ill health---due to "caffeine," the drug in their coffee.

The cause is often not understood until expert medical test shows up the bald facts.

One can get relief from the ills caused by coffee by quitting it for ten days and using

POISON SQUAD MEMBER COLLAPSES UNDER TEST

Philadelphia Student in Serious Condition for a Time, but Has Recovered.

COMPANIONS ARE SICK

Every Member of Band Suffers Nausea as Result of Caffeine Experiments

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—Serious results have followed the feeding of caffeine, a drug lurking in chocolate as well as coffee to the eight student members of the "poison squad" of the Hahnemann Medical College here. All have been subject to severe headaches and serious attacks of nausea, while one member of the squad was in such a serious condition after taking the caffeine-laden water for the first twenty days that he had to be placed in a special ward in the hospital. He received constant attention has recovered and at the college is said to have rejoined the squad.

The "poison squad" of the Hahnemann college was formed very quietly. It came into existence on March 1 and is under the direct supervision of Dr. Edmund T. Nesbitt director of the Hering laboratory of the college.

Dr. Nesbitt called for volunteers from among the students. He said he wanted men who were willing to do something for the benefit of humanity at large even though it might be to their own discomfort. Twenty-five students volunteered. Of these fourteen of the most perfect, physically were chosen eleven as regular members of the squad and three as alternates.

For thirty days the members of the squad were given doses of caffeine while Dr. Nesbitt and his assistants made personal observations, taking the pulses and temperature of the members of the squad and making notes on their general physical condition. It was not until within the last few days that one member of the squad weakened under the experiment to such an extent that it was necessary to send him to the hospital. Dr. Nesbitt refuses to reveal the name of the student who collapsed, but declares that, through proper treatment immediately he soon recovered.

The caffeine was administered in a solution and was mixed with the water the squad drank. The students did not know when they were getting the caffeine. There were no stated times for giving it in order to keep the mind of the student free from worry in order that the physical condition might not be changed materially through the action of the brain.

Before joining the "poison squad" each student had to sign a release against any action for damages against the college.

The laboratory was organized about fifteen months ago with Dr. Nesbitt as director, and almost immediately an exhaustive study was started to ascertain the destructive qualities of caffeine as used in food stuffs.

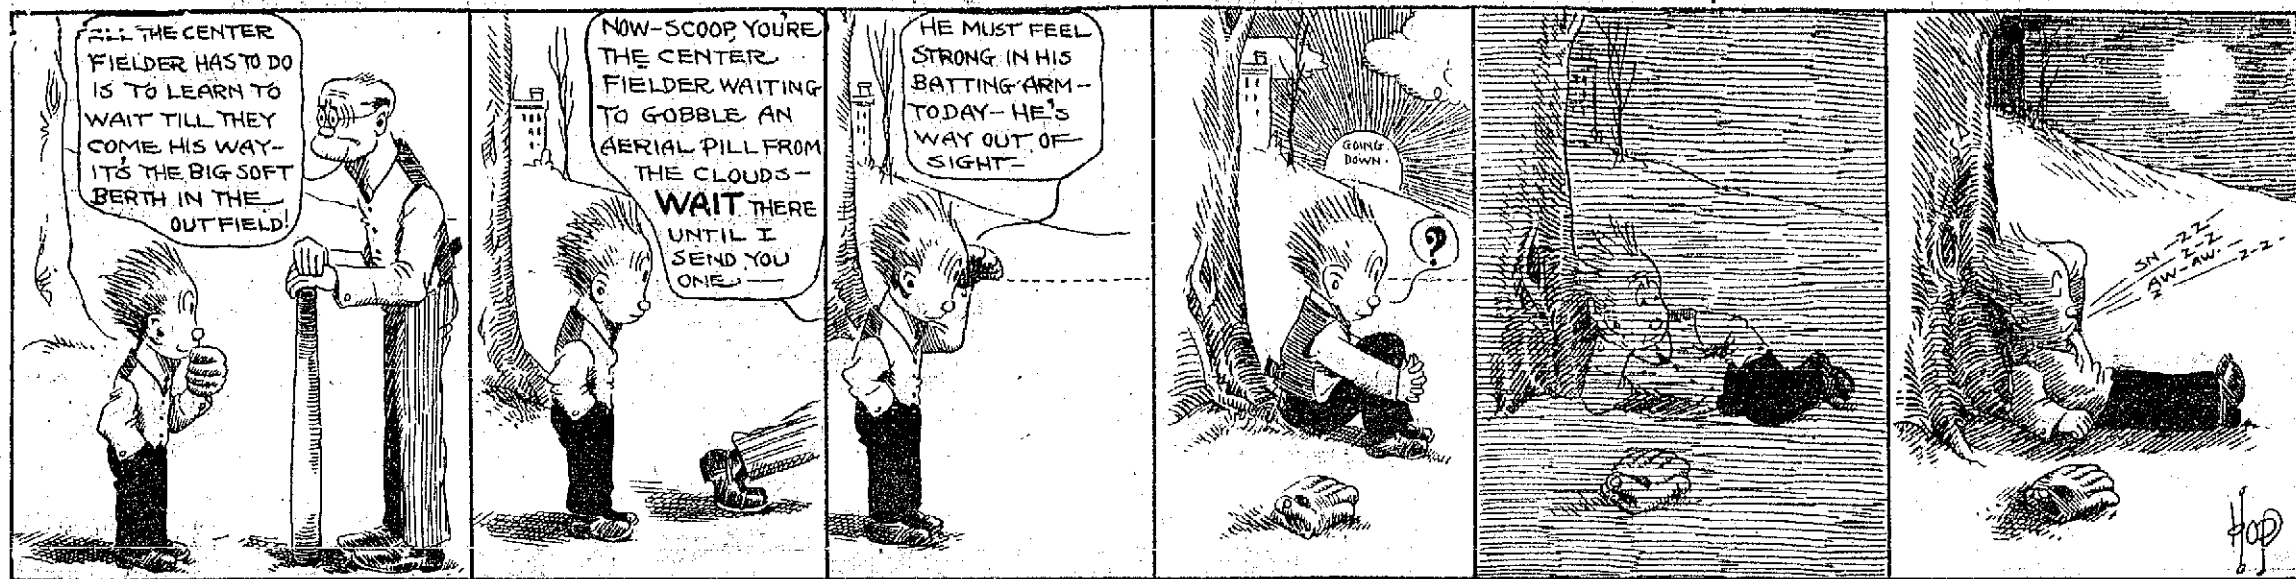

The students continued to live at the dormitories or at boarding houses, but they were required to take their meals at the training table located in the hospital near the diet kitchen. Before each meal the temperature was recorded, the pulse and respiration were taken and the blood pressure was tested. During the period the drug was administered only Dr. Nesbitt knew the amount apportioned to each man and when and in what quantity it was administered.

THE RIVERSIDES WIN GAME FROM KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Catcher Quitting in Second Cost Two Runs--Game Unsatisfactory.

The Knights of Columbus lost a game to the Riversides on Tuesday evening, which almost resulted in a break up of the team. The game started with Christ Heffernan in the box and Donoro catching, as Trayers, the regular pitcher, had a bad arm. In second inning Heffernan was wild and after Paul singled, he passed Plimpton and then Donoro had two passed balls in succession and Paul being forced out at third on Smart's ground hit to Heffernan, another passed ball and in walked Plimpton and here Donoro got peaved and throwing his mitt down walked in from the plate and sat down and Heffernan followed allowing Smart to walk around and home. Donoro refused to play any more on the ground that Heffernan was continually pitching balls that he did not signal for. By this time half of the team was on the players bench and the trouble was finally settled by J. Trayers agreeing to go into the box and Heffernan went behind the bat, and the game proceeded, Caswell being passed and a wild pitch scoring Norman. Trayers was pitched for two hits and one run was scored off him.

Jimmy Able was in the box for the Riversides and he was very effective, allowing only two hits and he had eight strike outs. The old veteran, Jack Mates, played a star game for the Knights, he had one great catch in deep center, and secured an assist by rapid work and he got one of the two hits. Young Hardin was missed from short by the Knights, he was hit up with an accident to his hand on the navy yard. A. Trayers was brought in from right to take his place and Plimpton tied out at second as Donoro went behind the bat.

The game in detail:

First Inning.

The Knights were up and Donoro went to first on a free ticket, and he was thrown out at second. Mates singled and he was forced at second on O'Brien's grounder to Huntoon. Heffernan fanned.

The Riversides failed to score. Caswell clouted out a long drive but Jack Mates made a great catch. Grant was safe on A. Trayer's tumble. Pruet was thrown out by Heffernan at first and Able gave Mates another out.

Second Inning.

The Knights were in order. McCarthy and Driscoll fanned and McWilliams was out on a fly to Smart. The balloon went up for the Riversides in this half and they landed three unearned runs. Huntoon started by flying out to O'Brien. Paul singled and was advanced by Plimpton being granted a pass. Smart forced Paul at third with a ground hit to Heffernan and Donoro allowed two passed balls, and Plimpton and Smart walked home, Norman singled and Donoro quit on Norman coming home, and a change was made, J. Trayers going to the slab, and Heffernan behind the bat. Norman being sent back but scored on a wild pitch. Caswell drew a pass and Grant retired the side J. Trayers to McCarthy.

Score--Riversides, 3.

Third Inning.

The Knights only used three men in their half. Plimpton singled and A. Trayers struck out, and on the same play Plimpton was thrown out at second, and J. Trayers fanned. The Kittery team scored another run in their half. Pruet singled and stole second. Able struck out and Heffernan dropped the ball but got him at first but Pruet was advanced and he scored when Huntoon was thrown out at first by Plimpton. Paul was out A. Trayers to McCarthy.

Score--Riversides, 4; K. C., 0.

Fourth Inning.

Neither scored in the fourth. Mates was out on an infield fly to Huntoon, O'Brien was thrown out by Able and Heffernan fanned for the second time.

For the Riversides Plimpton was hit and Smart struck out. Norman singled and Mates fielded the ball to third in time to get Plimpton. Caswell fanned.

Fifth Inning.

The Knights got two men on bases but failed to score. McCarthy struck out, Driscoll was safe on Plimpton's fumble, and McWilliams fanned. Plimpton was struck and with two men on A. Trayers was out on an infield fly to Plimpton.

Jack Eller Picked to Carry Off Hurdles at Olympics

NEW YORK, June 5--With Forrest Smithson of California, the world's champion hurdler, now out of it local athletic experts predict that Jack Eller, the Gotham star, will carry off the hurdling honors at the Olympic games. Eller is one of the best stick jumpers the game ever produced and is the holder of several records. If he maintains his present form he will surely carry off the prize at the games in Sweden.

MADE GOOD SHOWING

Boston & Maine Did Splendid Business During April.

The gain of a further $195,435 in net revenues of the Boston & Maine railroad, as shown in the April statement issued Saturday coupled with the improved showing of the immediately preceding months, puts the company on quite a different footing than in the opening months of the current fiscal year.

Up to last November Boston & Maine earnings had fallen off, in comparison with the previous year, nearly $400,000, and as the balance over fixed charges in the last fiscal year was but $350,000, it seemed a very serious question whether the company could earn these fixed charges in the present fiscal year. In December, however, the corner was turned, that month showing a gain in net of $400,000, and wiping out the previous decrease. This improvement has since continued.

The total gain in gross for the 10 months to the end of April has been $1,087,152, or 2.9 per cent, and the gain in net for the 10 months has been $534,548 or 8.1 per cent.

Moving Pictures of Fleet.

A private view of the moving pictures of the last target practice of the Atlantic Fleet were given to Secretary Meyer and a number of officers on May 29 in one of the rooms at the navy department for the purpose of determining whether there was any objection to the exhibition of the pictures in public. This is the first time that any concern has been allowed to take moving pictures of the fleet, because some of the officers feared that the pictures might reveal work done during battle practice which the department does not think it is wise to publish to the world.

RAILROAD NOTES

General Manager Frank Barr is reported to have resigned from the Boston & Maine to take effect on July 1. Mr. Barr was a former station agent of the W. N. & P. railroad at Nashua and later was appointed superintendent of that division. He came to the Boston & Maine as assistant general manager in 1906.

The Public Service Commission has announced that it had notified the Boston & Maine railroad that it must submit all of its testimony on the "rate case" which has claimed special public attention for nearly two years. The commission has to file its report on this case early next fall and feels that it must fix some limit to the time for introducing evidence.

Engineer T. L. Ross is running the navy yard workmen's train in place of Engineer Tom McCarthy who has been employed to end from the yard since the line to the government reservation was opened.

The tax assessors of Portsmouth are ably qualified to handle the duties of their office without any outside interference and the action of the state tax commission in sending a spotter here, does not place the state board in any too favorable light with our citizens.

The Baltimore American says: As evidence of the readiness with which the mobilization of the American naval forces may be carried out, the rapid work displayed in the response of two whole divisions of the Atlantic fleet to the call for a naval demonstration in southern waters should be a matter of gratification. Naval officers claim that it was the speediest and most successful act of mobilization upon so large a scale ever carried out by this or any other country. As such it will attract attention abroad even more than it will at home, for the observation of American fleet maneuvers by other maritime powers is close and constant.

The Chicago Record Herald says the decision of the officers and directors of the San Francisco Association with regard to the manner of promoting a proper celebration of Independence day is eminently wise. No demonstration or parade downtown is to be arranged. The association will promote a city-wide observance of the day by organizing interesting entertainments, lectures and patriotic meetings in neighborhood centers, and by cooperating with local committees. Open air exercises in parks, small parks and playgrounds will be arranged for the children. Indeed, the day is to be made largely a children's holiday in order to discourage the forms and methods of youthful "celebration" that maintain, burn and destroy.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS.

Congress is investigating the money trust, but so far that august body throw no light on the important side of the question, namely, How can the common, every-day man get it?

THE STUMBLER

If you've faltered by the way
Stumbled much or gone astray
Just begin afresh today.
Buckle to it.
For the errors you have made
And the faults that you've displayed
Needn't leave you sore dismayed.
We all do it.

There is none so wise or great
But has faltered in his gait
Left the pathway that is straight
And been humbled
And in every great man's wake
There is many a mistake
That his courage tried to shake
When he stumbled.

Just because you've lost one fight
Do not cease to seek the right Battle on with all your might Fame will crown you;
Yesterday is passed and gone,
Its mistakes don't dwell upon,
If you'll only struggle on,
They can't down you.

If you blundered yesterday,
Do not cling to your dismay,
Rise to seek a better way
When you've tumbled.
Keep up your courage, struggle on,
Here's a thought to dwell upon—
You are not the only one Who has stumbled.

"AFTER YOU ALPHONSE"

How the Trouble Over Portsmouth Navy Yard Appropriation Was Smoothed Over

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—The Portsmouth navy yard very nearly lost $12,000 of its appropriation of $44,000 as recommended in the appropriation bill, through the objection of Representative Tribble of Georgia, who opposed vigorously the allowance of $2,000 for the erection of officers' quarters as named in the committee report of the bill. Mr. Tribble raised a point of order that it was new work and not improvements, and on his objection the item was stricken from the bill. A little later in the day, when appropriations for the Pensacola yard was up for consideration, it was found to contain an item for officers' quarters at that yard, carrying an appropriation of $15,000. Now it happens that Mr. Tribble is much interested in the welfare of the Florida yard, and he urged the allowance of the item. Former Speaker Cannon was on his feet in an instant and asserted that if a point of order applied to the New Hampshire yard, it applied equally to Florida, and if he was excluded from the bill, he should insist that the other was also stricken out. Mr. Tribble appealed in vain to bring about a different point of view for the Florida yard, but Mr. Cannon stood firm as the rock of Gibraltar that no unjust discrimination should be made against the New Hampshire yard, and the Florida appropriation was laid on the shelf alongside of the one for New Hampshire. Believing that both were necessary for the good of the yards, Representative Richmond Pearson of Alabama, always alert, eloquent and persuasive, poured oil on the troubled waters. He smoothed the ruffled plumage of both contestants and suggested that Mr. Tribble first withdrew his objection and that Mr. Cannon follow suit, and that an amendment should be offered whereby the appropriations for both naval stations should be restored. This was finally agreed upon, and with a sort of "After you, Alphonse," exchange of courtesies, both objections were withdrawn, the amendment offered and New Hampshire and Florida came into their own once more.

The hay crop promises to be unusually good this year, which is something to be thankful for.

Preparing the Chicago Coliseum For the Republican National Convention on June 18.

Because of the great demand for tickets to the convention to be held in the coliseum, Chicago, on June 18 the Republican national committee is utilizing every inch of space possible under the restrictions of the law. A total of 11,172 seats will be the result. Of these 2,155 will be set aside for the delegates and alternates, 1,078 will give each delegate an extra seat, 2,000 may be given to Chicago for distribution among those who contributed the $26,000 to bring the convention to that city, and 500 more are for press seats. That leaves 5,433 for general distribution.

CASWELL, THE PLAISTOW MURDERER IS BETTER

Now Thought That He Will be Able to Face Trial

George Caswell, who killed his wife at Plaistow and then attempted to end his own life with the shot gun he used to kill his wife will probably live to face trial. Information received from the county hospital at Brentwood is to the effect that Caswell is now rapidly gaining strength and will soon be able to be taken into court for a preliminary arraignment. At the time of the murder, Caswell attempted to blow his own head off with a charge of buck shot, but instead he tore away a portion of his face and filled the flesh with powder and shot. After being arrested, he was taken to the county farm hospital at Brentwood, believed to be in a dying condition, but he has shown wonderful vitality and is gaining strength every day. His face will bear the marks of powder and shot as long as he lives, but will not suffer anything more serious in consequence of the unsuccessful attempt he made to end his life near the spot where he shot down his wife. As the Rockingham grand jury does not sit again until October, it will be necessary to have Caswell remanded to jail to await its action, and he will be given a preliminary arraignment in a justice's court, probably at Plaistow, which has an authorized court of that nature. He has not been approached by counsel; in fact, his relatives have looked for his death and expected that no counsel would be necessary for him, so that he will be instructed to waive examination and a plea of not guilty will be recorded for him, the case going to a New Hampshire court without anything more damaging than the evidence which Deputy Sheriff Shaw has accumulated for presentation at the trial.

EXETER LETTER

Many Interesting Items from the Academy Town.

Assistant Superintendent Scanlon of the Boston & Maine railroad paid a visit to stations along this section on Monday for the purpose of looking the situation over in regard to repairs. Some of the station agents asked for more help during the summer months as the business is increasing and they feel rather handicapped with the short help. The ground was viewed at Exeter, where it is probable that a new siding will be built in the near future. The summer schedule will probably go into effect about June 21, when the summer trains will be put on. The late theatre train which leaves Boston at 11:25 p. m. is being patronized some by residents in the towns along the line. The trail train which was put on some two weeks ago, and which leaves here at 7:24 in the morning, is being patronized by the school children and working people, who take it from station to station, and largely in this respect by the number of clerical employes living here and working in Haverhill, Mass.

There was no session of the superior court Tuesday contrary to expectations and the next session will be held Friday, when Judge Robert G. Pike will return from Manchester.

The April term will probably close then or Saturday. There are several cases which the attorneys are anxious to clear up and the session may go into Saturday.

Frank H. McAlpine, who closed the Squamscot house a few weeks ago, has gone to Alton Bay, where he will engage in a like business.

Register of Probate Robert Scott went to Derry Tuesday where the regular session of probate court was held.

Judge Thomas Leavitt, who has been confined to his home by a slight illness, has recovered his health and is again about.

Highest temperatures of the season were noted Tuesday when at different places it showed nearly 90 in the shade.

Joseph Kojeski, better known as "Joe Pete," died at Concord last Friday evening from tuberculosis. He has parents and brothers and sisters living in Exeter.

A party composed of winter school teachers and friends fourteen in number, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Hunt formed a house party at Hampton beach for Memorial day and the following Saturday and Sunday, returning for the opening of school yesterday morning. The party was held at the Averton. A pleasant outing was reported.

A party of eighteen members of the Dover church of the Christian Science attended the lecture at the town hall here last evening by Virgil O. Strickler of New York.

The boat house which is being erected on Plimpton field has its frame work completed and will before long be finished. It will be used to house the wheries which were given to the Phillips Exeter Athletic association by the Harvard Athletic association, and is situated on the north bank of the river in close proximity to the stream. The track house has already been located in its foundation, and this too will soon be completed. These two buildings will be a vast improvement to the playing field.

Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock the children who took part in the Red Men's entertainment, "Alice in Wonderland," which was presented at the Exeter opera house May 17, were entertained by the members' wives of the Wehannawit tribe. This evening the grown people were also entertained by the members.

Chief George H. Carter of the fire department, as agent for the administrators of the Deborah Ricker estate, sold the Ricker farm situated on the Epping road at public auction today. The highest bidder was James C. Ricker of Peabody, Mass., the farm going for a sum of $2250.

Walter D. Head, instructor in French at Phillips Exeter academy, and who this year was granted a leave of absence for studying at Columbia university, has returned to Exeter.

PLANTING SEASON RATHER LATE

Prospects for a Good Crop Said to be Excellent.

The continued rains that have been pouring down upon New Hampshire have kept back the planting and have made the season rather late. Some of the farmers who have much land to cultivate are complaining. A competent judge states that the prospects are good for a big crop, however. He bases his calculation on the fact that the ground is so filled with water that it will cause quick and healthy growth in spite of any dry weather that may follow. The problem of getting the crops into the ground and attending to them properly under such circumstances is far worse than the late weather. Farmers all over New Hampshire are endeavoring to get help.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE RE- ELECTED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Board Refuse to Award Coal Contract as Prices Are Too High--Biddeford Only Pays $5.10 for What Local Dealers Want $6.75.

The Board of Instruction held their annual meeting on Tuesday evening, and elected the teachers for the ensuing year. The Board also considered the question of the purchase of coal and the Committee were very much dissatisfied with the bids which were a great deal higher than last year. It was also brought out that other cities are getting their coal for schools at almost two dollars less a ton than the dealers of this city want. It is possible that the Board will go outside and purchase the coal where they can get reasonable prices. The question of a grant officer was brought up but no action was taken.

All of the members of the Board were present when Mayor Badger called the meeting to order.

The usual bills were disposed of and the report of the Financial Committee was accepted.

No Contract for Coal.

Chairman McCarthy for the purchasing committee reported on the bids which were called for the annual supply of coal for the schools. The bids call for 425 tons of coal and 19 cords of wood and there were two bids received for the coal as follows:

Consolidation Coal Company. For broken coal delivered up to the first of September, $6.35 a ton. Egg, $6.83 a ton. After September first broken at $6.85; Egg, $7.75 per ton.

C. E. Walker Company. Broken coal, $6.35 per ton up to the first of September after that a market price. Egg coal, $6.75 per ton, after the first of September market prices.

Wood.

There were three bids for the wood, and it was awarded to Henry Kenney whose bid of $7.50 for hard wood and $7.75 for soft wood with $3.00 for soft limbs uncut, was the lowest.

Mr. McCarthy said that the Committee were very much dissatisfied with the bids a the price of egg coal was $1.40 a ton higher than last year. He said that he did not think that the city should be made to pay such a price when the price of coal had only been advanced 25 cents a ton at the mines.

The committee had instructed Supt. Pringle to make inquiries of the cities as to the prices they were paying and only one reply had been received as yet. This was from Biddeford, where they reported that they had purchased their coal without competitive bids for $5.10 a ton for egg coal, a price that held good from year to year. The members of the Board were of the opinion that if the local dealers were trying to force the city to pay big prices than the Committee should purchase the coal outside where it could be obtained for less money. The matter was finally reported back to the committee with power and they will await further replies before taking action, and it is very doubtful if they award the contract to any of the local dealers.

The monthly report of the Superintendent of schools was made and accepted.

Teachers Recommended and Elected. The several chairmen of committees reported, recommending the election of teachers, and in the case of Mr. George Barsantee recommended that he be given an increase of salary as janitor of the Cabot street school and the recommendation was accepted.

The reports were made by Mr. Gooding for the first district, Mr. Knight for the second and Mr. McCarthy for the third and Mr. Page for the High school.

The Board then proceeded to the election of teachers and in the case of the High school at salaries recommended by the Committee, which carried but a small increase over that of last year.

The teachers elected were:

High School.

Supt. Pringle read a financial statement, in which he stated that the salaries for the year will be $39,695, which was within a little over a hundred dollars under the estimate. At the present time there are twenty-two teachers drawing the maximum salary.

Mrs. Mary L. Wood brought up the matter of a truancy officer. She took the ground that one was needed, not but what the police had done their work very well, but the employment of a police officer for this kind of work defeated its purpose, as they could not spare the time to get at the real facts, nor would they be in sympathy with the work like a regular officer. Inasmuch as no appropriation had been provided for the officer. No action was taken.

CRAB'S WALK OF 98 MILES

Homing Instinct Is Shown by Some Recent Experiments in England.

Some remarkably interesting details regarding the movements and the homing instinct of the edible crab were presented to the Eastern Sea

Fisheries Committee. During the past two years Fishery Inspector H.

Donnison has been carrying out investigations on behalf of the committee, and the results of his work cannot fail to be of considerable use to those concerned in biological research.

In the course of an exhaustive report he stated that between July and September, 1910, nearly two thousand crabs were captured, and after being labeled were again set free along the Norfolk and Lincolnshire coasts. The crabs had recently cast their shells, and now ones were then in process of hardening.

Rewards were paid to fishermen upon returning the crabs when recaptured. They were returned to the sea at varying distances from the shore, and up to the present 21 per cent of the labeled crustaceans had been recaptured and full data tabulated.

With regard to the Norfolk crabs liberated in the places from which they were originally obtained, fifty-two were recaptured within one mile of their first home, but one traveled as far as Flamborough Head, a distance of ninety-eight statute miles.

Nearly three hundred had traveled only three or four miles from where they were originally taken.—London

MANY DAINTY DISHES

ALL SORTS OF GOOD THINGS TO SELECT FROM.

Hanoverian Steaks as the Principal Material for Dinner—Nut Brown Bread Almost as Good as Cake
—Coffee Parfait.

Hanoverian steaks are little hamburg steaks, broiled and well seasoned. Over them is poured at serving time the following sauce: Brown in one tablespoon of butter one-half cup of finely chopped onion and cook five minutes. Add four tomatoes, cut in pieces, or one cup of canned tomato.
Season with salt and pepper and add one-half teaspoon of sugar. Cook for ten minutes.

Nut brown bread is a delicious adjunct to the five o'clock tea, and is quite rich enough to be used in place of cake. It slices very thin and may be made into sandwiches with cream cheese. To make it, use two cups of sour milk, one-half cup of molasses in which has been dissolved one large teaspoon of soda; one-half cup of sugar, three cups of whole wheat flour, one teaspoon salt. Mix thoroughly and add one cup of walnut meats cut in small pieces, but not chopped, over which has been sprinkled one teaspoon of sifted flour. Pour into a bread pan and bake in a slow oven for one hour.

Sugared strips are made when making the rhubarb pie for dinner. Roll out the left-over paste, cut in two even pieces, spread one with jam, lay the other strip over, sprinkle with granulated sugar, cut in finger lengths and brown in a hot oven. The sugar will melt and caramelize. These are also nice with afternoon tea.

Coffee Parfait.—Roll one cup of water with one cup of sugar until it will spin a thread. Pour slowly over the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, and when cold add one pint of cream, whipped stiff, one-half cup of very strong, black coffee and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Put in a covered mold, pack in ice and salt and let stand for four hours.

White Nut Cake.—Cream together one-third cup of butter, one cup of sugar. Add one-half cup of sweet milk, two cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder. Beat thoroughly, then add one cup of walnut meats cut in small pieces and dusted with one teaspoon of flour, and at the last fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Bake in a square pan in a slow oven for one hour. Cover with boiled icing and decorate with halves of walnut meats.

Risotto.—Parboil for ten minutes one cup of rice. Drain, blanch with water and let drain again. Put two tablespoons of butter in a frying pan, trim in the rice, add two tablespoons of chopped onion, one cup of thick to-matos, one and one-half teaspoons of salt, a little paprika and two and one-half cups of water. Cover and let cook slowly until the rice is tender and the water absorbed. Take up on a hot serving dish, sprinkle over one-half cup of grated cheese, stir with fork and serve very hot.

Curried Eggs.—Hard boil three eggs. Make a white sauce of one tablespoon of butter, one of flour and one cup of milk. Stir till thick and smooth, add one-half teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of curry powder.
Cut the eggs in eighths and add to the sauce and pour over slices of toast.

How to Clean Oil Lamp Burner.

Cut up some little potatoes in an old kettle with water and put in the lamp burners and let boil with the potatoes all morning or longer if they are very black. This will cook the black off the burners. Then take an old tooth brush, then put in hot soap water before they dried, and a large chicken feather is nice to clean where you cannot use a brush. I have cleaned my lamp burners this way for years.
After they are clean they look like new burners. This is an old recipe that I read about twenty years ago in a household paper.—Exchange.

Cream of Asparagus Soup.

For this the canned article may be used. Drain the liquor into a sauce pan and save. Cut off the tips and save these, rub the stocks through a coarse sieve, beat the can liquor in a double boiler with three cups of milk, blend two tablespoonsful of flour with two tablespoonsful of cooking oil or butter and pour the heated milk upon it. Return to boiler and cook until smooth and creamy; add the asparagus pulp and heat again, then add the seasoning and the tips.

Crumb Cakes.

For three people: One cup of crumbs (toast bread and grind in meat-chopper), one cup sweet milk, one egg, enough flour to make medium batter,
one teaspoon baking powder and salt.
Fry as for batter cakes.—Home Department in National Magazine.

Sauce for Bread Pudding.

Cream one-quarter cup of butter and one-half cup of powdered sugar, and beat again until smooth. Flavor with one-half teaspoon of vanilla and pile on a dish roughly. Set away in a cool place if not ready to serve at once.—
Allice E. Whitaker.

Kitchen Kink.

A thin coat of potash left on the sink over night once a week will remove the ugly, yellow stains that will not yield to kerosene. It should be applied with care as it is poisonous.

BELIEFS OF NATIVES

Mysterious Ceremony of Ju-Ju in West Africa.

Blacks Worship Smallpox Victims and Even Put Their Faces Against Patient to Obtain the Desired Scars.

Cape Colony, Africa.—Fetich travelers in West Africa are unfailingly struck by the curious forms of worship adopted by the superstitious natives. They illustrate the truth of the statement that every human being acknowledges in his heart some sort of worship to a deity, but the varieties in the dark continent are queer indeed.

Take a stroll through any African town or village and you will notice a score of little thatched huts with mud floors, on which are thrown a heap of ordinary stones. These huts are the fetich-houses, to which the natives go and salaam and ask their gods for various blessings after leaving offerings of beads, rams and nuts.

In some parts of Africa they even worship smallpox. The natives treat the infected patient with great reverence and even rub their faces on his body to obtain the desired scars. European administrators naturally regard this form of worship as abominable. Only the other day a chief was suspended for having encouraged it.

The belief the native has in the efficiency of ju-ju or witchcraft is touching in the extreme. Take the case of a man who believes his wife is not as faithful to him as she should be. He promptly proceeds to the witch doctor, and on payment of a fee varying in amount according to the required severity of the spell, requests that a ju-ju shall be put on his hated rival. When one of these rivals dies—from a dose of ground glass or the thousand and one ways in which the crime can be committed out there—the triumphant lover exclaims: "Ita! See the power of the ju-ju," and the witch doctor adds more kudos to his reputation.

Funeral ceremonies, too, are carried out with the strictest regard to the appeasing of the gods. Supposing a man dies out in the bush. His comrades strap his corpse to a plank and hoist it on to the head of one of their number, who leads them in procession to his home with much beating of tom-toms and yelling, while another native runs in front, pulling the feathers out of a live chicken and scattering them broadcast. Arrived at the dead man's hut, the body is buried under the floor, and all the relations and friends come in and drink gin and feast in a beastly orgy for as many nights as the family has money to buy liquor. Included in these celebrations there is much firing of guns and beating of drums to scare off evil spirits. Tenderfoot white men are distracted by the racket, but after a time they treat it quite as an ordinary occurrence.

Another curious practice dating from very early times, is the playing of an instrument called the oro. This is made of a piece of native wood or iron, shaped like a dagger, to which a long string is tied. When this is swung around and around rapidly it produces a trilling blood-curdling sound, like a long-drawn wail. This sound is supposed to be the crying out of dead spirits, and only the men can safely look on the oro and live. If a woman looks on it she dies—the native will tell you by spells, but in reality by being struck on the back of the head by the whirling piece of iron.

The African is very fond of processions, and a very common sight is a native dressed from head to foot in weird-colored clothing, with a wooden idol on his head, leading in the way and waving his arms, followed by an admiring crowd of men, women and children. This apparition is held by common consent to be the spirit of a dead man paying a visit to the earth.

Set Your Burden Down.

Following is an extract from a little article in Fun and Frolic: "An aged, weary-looking woman, with a heavy basket upon her arm, entered the train at one of the way stations. Carrying her burden with some difficulty down the aisle, she found an empty seat of which she took possession. Instead of placing her burden upon the floor or upon the seat beside her, she continued to hold it, shifting its weight now and then from one knee to the other. A working man across the aisle watched her for some time in silence, but at last when he could stand it no longer he reached over and touched the woman upon the arm. 'Madam,' he said, 'if you will set your basket down the train will carry both it and you.' How much of human nature there is in this incident! Some people never try to 'ease the burden' which circumstance has decreed shall be theirs. They insist on carrying it even when they might temporarily lay it down and ease their backs."

Alleged Critic Punished.

A lively scene was created at Aberystwyth, Cardigan, Wales, recently by students from the University College. Adverse criticism of the college Rugby team in a local newspaper brought outrageous punishment down on a student alleged to be the writer. At the close of the morning lectures he was seized by his fellow students and marched to the castle ruins overlooking the sea. There he was bound, and upon his head was poured the contents of a can of syrup, while bags of confetti were flung at him from all sides, until he looked like a human kaleidoscope. Then he was borne on a truck like a trussed fowl through the streets of the town and along the Marine Promenade and afterwards released.

Derivation of "Cop."

"When the policemen are referred to as 'cops' or 'coppers,' it is a very legitimate and historical appellation," said the old-timer. "You've never heard whence the term was derived? Well, here it is. 'The first uniformed police force succeeded the old night watch, in the early days of the English possession, and the patrolmen wore large shields of copper. They were furnished until they could be seen shining like a beacon in the reflected rays of the sun, and even at night scintillated in the light of the torches which were forerunners of the white lights of Broadway. In no time the policemen were known as 'coppers.' Bert Young America found that too long, and 'cop' was the result."

Purely Mental.

Mrs. Holden had been blessed with remarkable eyesight all her life. It was a great trial to her when, at the age of seventy-two, she was obliged to put on "reading glasses." "But they are really becoming to you, Aunt Hilda," said a gentle niece, by way of consolation. "No, they aren't," said Mrs. Holden, with her usual scornful compliment. "Anybody's eyes look better without a glass in front of 'em and you know it." "But you couldn't read without 'em," ventured the niece, "and you love—" "I could, too, read without 'em," said the old lady, refusing to be soothed. "I could read most as well as ever, but I couldn't sense it all—that's the only trouble."—Youth's Companion.

Demand Too Much.

As a nation we are intolerant of rest. If we have a brilliant man, we insist upon his always shining. We want our rose bushes to bloom all the year 'round, we would have our trees all bearing fruit, and our suns always shining. We kill three-fourths of our truly great men in the prime of life by expecting and exacting too much of them, and then call the legitimate results of our forcing system a dispensation of Providence. Like the earth, minds must lie fallow at times. Perpetual crops will exhaust any soil and perpetual excitement will wear out any mind or body.—Waverly Magazine.

Cat Put Up: Violent Fight.

While calling at a friend's ranch the other day, a young Italian nobleman, who is ranching near Monterey, Cal., was attacked by a huge Maltese cat, a pet of the household, and severely bitten on the hand and in the back. He was walking up the steps of the house when the cat attacked him. The animal sank its teeth into the fleshy part of his back and clung to him with bulldog tenacity. In attempting to pull the cat off his back, the victim was bitten on the hand. The cat followed him to the gate, and he was obliged to use a club to drive it off.

Much Required of Physicians.

In Beloochistan when a physician gives a dose he is expected to partake of a similar one himself as a guarantee of his good faith. Should this patient die under his hands the relatives, though they rarely exercise it, have the right of putting him to death, unless a special agreement has been made, for freeing him from all responsibility as to consequences; while, if they should decide upon immolating him, he is expected to yield to his fate like a man.

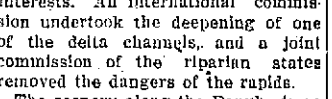

Increased Honors.

Farmer Jockins (with newspaper)—Well, I want to say that boy of St. Francis is getting along. Last year he was made a furrin' ambassador, and now, by crickey, the paper says he's a person of great

POLYGLOT RIVER, THE DANUBE

Noted Stream in Europe Heats Many Tongues Spoken Along Its Course.

Berlin, Germany.—Where is there another river so international as the Danube? It rises in Baden and flows through Wurtemberg and Bavaria; nearly half its length lies in Austria-Hungary; then it separates the latter country and Servia. At Orsova three nationalities meet—Hungarians, Servians and Roumanians; after that it serves as a boundary between Roumania and Bulgaria; and its mouth lies in Roumanian territory. As one passes from source to mouth, strange sounds greet the ear: first high German dialects, as Alemannic, Swabian, and Bavarian; then the language of the proud sons of Arpad, the Magyars; then the Servian and Roumanian and Bulgarian tongues. The management of the river improvement shows the number and variety of the Interests. An international commission undertook the deepening of one of the delta channels, and a joint commission of the riparian states removed the dangers of the rapids.

The scenery along the Danube is as varied as the people that dwell on its banks. There are stretches whose heavy rivals that of the picturesque parts of the castled Rhine; then comes the monotony of the wide plain; then it breaks once more through mountain chains and again the scene is wild and beautiful.

There is more of the beautiful blue Danube connected with Austria-Hungary than with any other state; and this river and its tributaries cement the heterogeneous parts of that composite country more naturally and more firmly than laws and treaties can. Far more freight is moved on the Danube than in and out of the Austrian Adriatic ports; so that in spite of the possession of a strip of coast, the monarchy may be called an inland state. Unfortunately for this government, the all-important Danube slips from it by flowing far beyond the borders of the land, yet it has even in politics a directing influence. The eyes of Austrian statesmen are turned eastward. Economically and politically the Danube is of such dominating significance to Austria-Hungary, that it has been suggested that this conglomerate state be called not the dual monarchy, but the Danubian monarchy.

The Danube was the scene of Roman colonization, of the fierce invasions of the migration of the Huns, the Avars, and the Magyars, of the advance of the Crusaders to the east; of that of the Turks toward the west, and more recently of the growth of the House of Hapsburg and of the disintegration of the Ottoman realm. What causes this frequent reference in history to the Danube and its valley? A glance at the map will account for it; stretching from the head waters of the Rhine, the Rhone, the Elbe, and the Oder to the Black Sea, the Danube forms and for ages has formed the connecting link between the Orient and the Occident.—Journal of Geographers.

TIP LANDS MAN IN PRISON

Suspected of Theft, He Proves Coin Gift Was Given Him by a Patron.

Los Angeles.—Arrested on a charge of having stolen twenty-five cents from the cash register of the Globe Dairy Lunch at 560 South Main street, M. L. Strawn, formerly employed at the place as a waiter, proved before Judge Chambers that the money which he was accused of stealing had been given him as a tip by M. Tinsley, Central avenue meat dealer.

G. A. Barracough, manager of the lunch, testified that he placed marked money in the register. On April 1 he saw Strawn place his hand in his pocket after ringing up a sale on the register, and believed he had taken a coin from the register. An officer was called, and on searching Strawn a marked twenty-five-cent piece was found.

Strawn explained that Tinsley had paid his bill with a dollar, and on receiving the change had given him the twenty-five-cent piece.

Long Auto Ride to Save Injured Dog.

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM ROOF

A Four Year Old Son of Joseph Sacco, of Market Street, was Serious ly injured on Tuesday afternoon.

The little fellow was playing on the roof of an ell of the house when he fell off and when found was unconscious.

Dr. F. S. Towle was called and he found the little fellow had escaped without broken bones, but he was injured internally and late last evening he was still in an unconscious condition.

The Sunset league still draws good crowds and the patrons are seeing some giff-edge baseball.

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently relieved in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad food, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple, scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious to all druggists, 15c. & 25c.

ODD CHINA SCENE

Celestial Fishermen and Their Crude Homes.

Most of the Houses Are One Room Shanties Built Without Windows—Men Start for Fishing Grounds at 2 A. M.

Canton, China.—Did you ever visit a Chinese fishing village? Next to rice, you know, the Chinaman delights in fish, and so, on the big rivers running into the interior, these villages are found. You find these Celestials friendly, even to the stranger. Do not interfere with them, and they'll not bother you; it is a safe motto. You will find the fisherman standing in the doorway of their one-room shanties, curious-looking structures these, absolutely without visible window. Houses of the sort are all about, all of them unpainted, but black for the weathering of the frame. Some few will have a second room to them—but this also without window except in the very top of the roof. The door is extremely narrow and as it stands open, permits a peep inside. Some of these houses have aspired to cheap wall paper. At most all have a low cot or bunk, with blankets unfolded, against one wall, and a few chairs stand about. General disorder characterizes the interior.

Soft-pedaled men go about, in loose black trousers, of seersucker, and sometimes coats of the same goods, but light blue. They wear a rather ministerial-looking vest, and the hair is set into a queue, which is often carried about the head.

Women, too, hobble by, barefooted, but the sole of the foot resting upon clogs. Among these very poorest women one doesn't find the tiny foot one so often reads about. Some few of them have earrings in their ears, circles of gold from which queer green stones hang pendant. Yonder you remark an old man, washing dishes, out the tumbly veranda to his house.

Then, too, you note how several of the homes have on their exterior, just next the door, a little shelf, with some old tin cans. In these they burn the joss sticks, even as you pass a fat old woman is fixing such. It is the heart of Cathay here and she pays no heed to you.

Cross the rocks of the beach as you come to this now. Their skills are drawn up. Those punts are square-set at each end. From the middle a low mast rises up, across which then there is an iron bar, at an angle, from the upper end of that, there hangs what appears to be an iron net. As a matter of fact this device is arranged for holding pieces of wood which are light, to attract the fish at night.

You pause, just a moment, to drink in the typical Chinese life here, to survey houses, boats and all.

The fishermen, you learn, are wont to go out as early as two in the morning for the fish, and return perhaps at two in the afternoon. Usually two men go out to a boat and these take no lunch along. For the work they employ either hook and line, or net, and the fishing ground will lie some 60 fathoms from shore.

INJURED CHILD WALKS A MILE

With Her Hand Nearly Severed, Girl Makes Tourinquet and Seeks Aid.

Millendale, Del.—With her hand nearly cut off as the result of an accident, Mary Corbick, a seven-year-old child, displayed remarkable fortitude when she walked over a mile from a woods where the accident took place and then calmly held her hand while a physician amputated four of the fingers.

The little girl and a younger brother were playing in the woods, when the boy picked up a ax and accidentally cut the girl so that two fingers were severed at the wrist.

The child bound a string around the arm to keep it from bleeding, walked to her home with her brother and then submitted to the amputation.

Harm Wrought by Athletics.

A study of 626 athletes of the Naval academy and training school for the ten years ending last year shows twenty-one deaths, six from consumption, eight from nervous diseases, two from alcohol and two from heart disease—heart trouble brought on by too much running. Football caused one death. But worst of all, among the other 604 athletes are 198 who have had officially recorded injuries supposed to be brought about by athletics. One-third of the 198 had troubles of the heart—shrinkage of the heart, loose valves, fast and irregular beating of the heart and bagginess of the heart. In 16 of the 198 the joints of the legs or arms were out of order, and 17 had either active or sleeping consumption. Eleven had kidney disease and 16 were sufferers from nervousness and stomach trouble.—New York Press.

What Made the Squirrel Like Him?

Prince Paul Troubetsky, the sculptor, carries a pet about with him. Prince Troubetsky was lunching in New York when one of the company demanded that the prince show the others the animal that was in his possession. Forthwith the prince, to the astonishment of the company, pulled out of an inner pocket a little squirrel. He said that ten days before, while in Cleveland, he had noticed the squirrel in the street and had approached it. To his surprise, instead of running away, it made toward him and allowed him to take it up. Later in the day he took it to the park, where he wished to set it free, but the squirrel would not leave him.

Is Golf Scotch or Dutch?

The origin of golf, one of the most popular pastimes in the United Kingdom, has generally been ascribed to Scotland. But this is a fallacy. Late-ly, however, it is asserted that it is to Holland we owe this game, and that it was brought from Holland to Scotland. For instance, the name "golf" itself is derived from the Dutch word "rolf," meaning a bat or club. "Fore!"—the word shouted before driving off—is derived from the Dutch word "voor," meaning, in front. From "putter"—the Dutch word to hole—we get our English word put; and niblick—the Scotch "niblick," a knob of wood—is derived from the Dutch knobbe-lachtig, meaning knotty.

Must Have Three Certificates.

The Rev. Mabel R. Witham, pastor of the Church of Immortalism in the "exclusive" Back Bay quarter of Boston, has decided not to celebrate marriage unless the parties can produce three certificates. The first is to be one from a doctor stating that they have passed a medical inspection, the second must be from a banker or other responsible person to the effect that the would-be husband has demonstrated his ability to maintain a wife in decent circumstances, and the third should certify that the bride has received a proper training in domestic science and the mysteries of household management.—London Answers.

True Benevolence.

It is useless to talk of sacrificing self to others unless there is something in self that others need. It is the full and rich life, not the poor and empty one, that can fill and enrich others. True benevolence, then, must obtain that which it would give. To acquire honorably money or leisure or power, to cultivate health and happiness, to gain knowledge and wisdom, to develop interest in human affairs, to cherish just principles and generous impulses, to fill the mind with pure and noble thoughts and the heart with tender love and sympathy—these things are essential.

Peddled Flowers for Sick.

More than 26,000 single carnations were disposed of in Salem by volunteer workers in the annual carnation festival held in aid of the Salem summer camp for tuberculous patients.

All day long the streets of the city were filled with the flower-sellers. Fair pickets took up their stations on the principal street corners early in the morning and commuters were forced to run the gauntlet of their appeals. The standard price asked was ten cents, but "keep the change" was the order of the day with most of the buyers.

Best Business Creator.

As a business creator, what is there better than advertising? Have you ever asked that question of yourself? The millions that advertising has made for merchants are uncountable, yet there are business men who even now don't believe in advertising, just as there are people who still think it is safer and more convenient to travel in a prairie schooner behind a pair of slow oxen than in a Pullman palace car. Yet this type of business man is seldom rated in commercial rating books.—Exchange.

Genuine Maple Sugar.

There are few people outside the maple sugar making districts, says a writer in the Country Gentleman, who really know what the genuine article tastes like. The superior flavor thus spoken of is probably due in a degree to the same causes that make strawberries eaten off the vine and cherries consumed on the tree so delectable. The writer quoted, however, puts some of the blame for the poor flavor of commercial maple sugar on the "wily wholesale dealer and mixer."

Qualifications for Success.

One secret of the life successful in any quarter is perseverance. "The story of genius even, so far as it can be told, is the story of persistent industry in the face of obstacles." "Perseverance is the statesman's thought, the warrior's sword, the inventor's secret, the scholar's open sesame." Robertson Nicoll's four qualifications for success in life are: (1) a definite object in view; (2) a determination not to be defeated; (3) the capacity for exercising continual self-denial, and (4) a certain belief in one's own powers. George William Curtis expressed an evident truth when he said "an engine of one cat power running all the time is more effective than one of forty horsepower standing still."—Christian Science Monitor.

To Minimize Accidents.

An interesting method of educating the public in the prevention of street accidents, which possesses possibilities in other directions, employed by the Boston Elevated Railway company, is commented on in a recent number of the Journal of the American Medical association. The railway company offered a large number of prizes to high school pupils for the best specimens of verses containing instruction and caution in the way of prevention of traffic accidents on the streets which would appeal particularly to children. The plan created great interest among the school children, and a large number of answers were received. The company awarded about 200 prizes, the largest being for $50.

Brought Death to Pigeons.

At a meeting of the Linnæan society of London, Professor Poultou presiding, a letter was read from Herr Paul Scherdlin, as follows: "For hundreds of years pigeons have nested on the spire of Strasbourg cathedral. They increased so much that many attempts have been made to exterminate them, but in vain. During the last few years there has been a sudden and startling diminution in the number of these cathedral pigeons. I am of the opinion that this manifest reduction is due to the asphalting of the streets round the cathedral. Between the stone sets of the pavement the pigeons were able to pick up food in quantity. In consequence of the asphalting and daily watering and cleansing of the places in the immediate neighborhood the birds have gone."

CHIEF OF THE PAPAL GUARD

Col. Repond, Retired Officer of the Swiss Army, Their Commander—Pontiff Lauds Soldiers.

London.—Col. Repond, the retired staff officer of the Swiss army, who has been called by Pius X. to succeed the late Baron Meyer von Schauensee as commander of the Pontifical Swiss Guard, is decidedly a martinet. The Swiss Guard was formed in 1605, and now consists of 104 men, rank and file, who still continue their traditional duties of mounting guard at the bronze door and in the papal ante-chambers. As soon as he assumed command the colonel set about thoroughly reorganizing the corps. He realized at once that the artistic uniform designed by Michael Angelo was not adapted for drilling, and he provided his men with a serviceable plain uniform to be worn for fatigue duty. The colonel likewise discarded the old Remington rifles used by the Swiss Guards and had them replaced with modern Mausers. He relegated the traditional halberds, cross bladed long swords and steel breastplates and helmets to use exclusively on great ceremonial functions.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

Members of Guard in Uniform.

The men are now drilled for several hours daily, they have target practice once a month and every week they are marched for many hours around the Vatican gardens, where they also have physical drill.

Evidently the men complained of too much work. The Liberal papers took the case up and ridiculed the colonel's warlike spirit, which they said was useless, since the Pope was in no danger and the Swiss Guards would never be called to protect him or defend the Vatican since the Italian army was always available.

The Pope reads all the Roman papers, and when Col. Repond was received in audience recently to congratulate the Pope on his name day on the Feast of St. Joseph he said to him:

"Dear Colonel, I must congratulate you on making my Swiss Guards earn their pay and at the same time I thank you for training them, as I rely more on them for the defense of my person than on the Italian army."

ETHICS IN JAPANESE SUICIDE

Hara-Kiri Out of Date—Modern Method to Jump into an Active Volcano.

Tokio, Japan.—The Japanese are now busily debating the ethics of suicide. The case out of which the controversy has arisen is that of the station master at Moji, who because of a mishap to the Imperial train which made it necessary for the emperor to adjourn for half an hour to a waiting room showed his repentance by throwing himself under the wheels of the express.

The station master's devotion having evoked a wave of popular admiration which took shape in a proposal to erect a monument to his memory, the nation has been rebuked by the president of the Kyushu university for thus glorifying the act of self-destruction; and the latter, finding himself out of tune with public opinion, has resigned his position.

It is a singular thing that among a people so cheerful as the Japanese suicide should be so common. Ten thousand destroy themselves every year in Japan, and the figures cannot be said to be diminishing. But hara-kiri as such is out of date.

The modern victims of the suicidal mania, when they do not throw themselves in front of a train, jump into the crater of an active volcano. Asama, in central Japan, and Aso-san, in Kyushu, have both acquired a sinister reputation in this respect.

It is, however, a disgusting sign of the times to find the student class resorting so largely to suicide—especially of the spectacular sort, and this, no doubt is Dr. Yamakawa's motive, in protesting against the exaltation of an act which the Christian world regards as a grievous sin.

White Man's Friend Dies.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Chief Scarface, the oldest of the Arapahoe Indians, is dead. He was 103. Chief Scarface was noted for his desire for peace with the white men, and his readiness to adopt the white men's customs. He prevented his tribe from participating in the massacre of General Custer's soldiers.

To Prosecute 80.

Seoul.—Eighty conspirators, most of whom it is alleged are native Presbyterians, are to be prosecuted for an attempt made in December, 1910, on the life of Count Terauchi, governor general of Korea.

Game Postponed.

The game between the baseball teams representing the yard officers and those of the North Carolina, has been postponed owing to a death on the yard, and may be played Thursday.

before he could recover he found himself in the river.

"Lee" who is a good swimmer and has quite a record for saving lives, had no difficulty in keeping afloat until rescued by those on the steamer, after which he proceeded to his camp on Clark's Island where he was bound when the accident occurred.

SELECTMEN WERE WRONG

Editor Daily Herald:
Dear Sir:—The impression given the public by an advertisement over the signature of "The Selectmen of Rye" in your issue of today, that "Rye" in the issue of the Chronicle this morning, that "The New Castle bridge will be closed for repairs after June 5," is an error and doubtless refers to "The Wentworth bridge."

The bridges and parkway roads connecting New Castle avenue in Portsmouth and Portsmouth avenue in New Castle are the only structures entitled to the name as advertised. They are in the pink of condition and will not probably be closed for many years to come.

DAVID URCH, Proprietor's Clerk.

The Motor Appliance Co. has sent its sales manager, Mr. Martin, to this section to demonstrate the celebrated "Maco" carburetor and he has already been unusually successful. While here he will appoint local agents that all who desire to secure one of these appliances may do so without having to bother with an order at the factory. The agents will be given information of the relative merits of the products of the Motor Appliance Co.'s and information relative to autos and boats will be freely given. A very simple and most effective sales plan will be presented by Mr. Martin. A complete list of auto owners will be kept by the agents and the owners will be informed of the latest in the auto line. All information relative to autos, their care and maintenance will be given gladly, whether those seeking information are customers or not.

Particular attention will be given by the agents to discussing the merits of the Maco carburetor as it is believed that there is nothing on the market that compares with it in efficiency, durability and reliability. It has but few working parts which can be replaced in an instant. One of the great features of the Maco is the fact that it always gives a perfect mixture for any degree of speed and the engine can be kept under complete control by the throttle alone. It is suitable for any kind of gas engine; marine, stationary or automobile. It is the belief of the producers of this carburetor that it will meet with such approval on the part of users that its sales will exceed that of any other make. The conclusions are based upon the tremendous sales that it has already enjoyed.
